- June 29 Richard Clark

Performs at the Senior Center performing as "The Great" John Barrymore. Enjoy the life and times of the "bad boy" actor of the early 20th century, John Barrymore. Have a rollicking good time as he takes us down memory lane to the era of the roaring 20's and 30's. Join the audience at a rehearsal of his greatest performance as Shakespeare's "Richard III." His trusty prompter tries to keep him on the straight-and-narrow and pick up the pieces as he stumbles through this boozy undertaking. This play is a charming concoction of comedy and pathos as Barrymore struts what's left of his "stuff". Family history, theatre lore, and the rigors of marriage and Hollywood are mixed in a portrait of a great artist who has lost his way. Pickings after the performance.
