Council comment:

- Councilman Santino asks what the other resume they have is for, Alicia Heaney, is it for the same position or is there two openings?
- Town Attorney Joseph Zullo explains that under the standing rules, the administrative services committee makes a recommendation and that is what goes on the agenda. In order to make sure the process is transparent they get a copy of every resume that comes in.
- Councilwoman Letizia Lettieri-Morales says that she was at the admin. meeting and she thought Mr. Naclerio had a better resume. She asks about the other positions that were open which at the time they didn't have resumes for as far as they knew. She did receive an email from two individuals who would like to be on the ZBA, can she make a motion to do that?
- Chairman Fred Parlato says he has their resumes and would like to talk to each individual and check their party affiliation so they don't stack a board illegally. He would like to talk to them as he did with Mr. Naclerio since he didn't know him personally so he met with him and explained the position and he explained why he wanted to be on it. He thinks he needs to do that and then at the next meeting they will likely present them at the administrative meeting to decide who they will appoint and who they will not.
- Councilwoman Lettieri-Morales says she knows he does not want to stack it with any party, can we find out how many are on ZBA now.

- Chairman Parlato says yes, at the administrative meeting they can discuss it to determine if this is an issue or not. They have had 1 individual on a board that has missed 27 meetings. Especially with ZBA, if there isn't a quorum they are unable to discuss actions during the given time frame. There are people who want to be on the board and then don't show up which is one of the problems they have.
- Councilwoman Lettieri-Morales says the two resumes she has look excellent and they can discuss it at the meeting.
- Councilman Palladino says if they are having a problem with people they are putting on boards and commissions not showing up, as he reads the Charter, by 2/3 majority they can remove them and need to start doing that.
- Chairman Parlato says there is a process to go through on that, he thinks the Chairman has to notify them or send them a letter.
- Councilman Palladino says he is not too sure about that, they removed someone from a board because it was a 2/3 majority and he got a letter saying he was off. Maybe they should do that for everyone. They took someone off the ADA with no explanation. Someone else was put on before they finally decided to start taking resumes and his understanding is that now that person isn't even showing up for meetings, so maybe they need to be more careful about this.
- Attorney Zullo explains just to be clear that there are two processes. When somebody has an indefinite term, they can be removed at any point in time by the Council. When somebody has a specific term there is actually a Town Ordinance that directs the procedure of how to remove them. Again, the difference is the type of terms they have, the Chairman was right that they have to send a letter and give them time to respond, perhaps hold a hearing and it is all spelled out in the Ordinance.

Roll call vote: all in favor-none oppose-none abstain. Motion carries.
